

The Heavens are Open (And Therefore We Have Work To Do)¹

© Denver C. Snuffer, Jr. 2020

A new Restoration is begun preliminary to winding up God's great work. God is very active at present. Being chosen to do God's work does not make us godly, virtuous or better than others. Every individual must be godly and practice virtue, and even then we are no better than any other people. The difference consists in God's willingness to direct us forward as He completes the promises and covenants He made to the fathers. It is God's presence, not our worthiness, which distinguishes us.

In the last few weeks a great alarm has been raised about a viral pandemic. It illustrates something about all nations and institutions: Although they may seem durable, they are all vulnerable and easily destroyed by very simple means. Like locusts destroying crops of Egypt in the story of Exodus,² great societies are shaken through the smallest of means. We know there will come "an overflowing scourge, for a desolating sickness shall cover the land"³ for the Lord has told us beforehand, so that when it comes we will not be overtaken. This current unrest illustrates what will happen one day soon. Being forewarned gives us the opportunity to prepare.

But our society suffers most from evils we inflict upon ourselves. It is estimated that in January and February of this year the greatest cause of death in the United States has come from one of our great evils of abortion. An estimated 141,000 abortions in those two months, added to the estimated 51,000,000 slain since 1973. Abortion is the leading cause of death in the US. By tolerating this mass killing we are not unlike those who anciently killed their children sacrificing them to the false god Molech. The Lord repeatedly condemned this:

"And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying, Again, you shall say to the children of Israel, Whoever he is, of the children of Israel or of the strangers that sojourn in Israel, that gives any of his seed unto Molech, he shall surely be put to death. The people of the land shall stone him with stones. And I will set my face against that man, and will cut him off from among his people because he has given of his seed unto Molech, to defile my sanctuary and to profane my holy name. And if the people of the land do in any way hide their eyes from the man when he gives of his seed unto Molech and kill him not, then I will set my face against that man, and against his family, and will cut him off, and all that go whoring after him to commit whoredom with Molech, from among their people.”⁴

² "And the locusts went up over all the land of Egypt and rested in all the borders of Egypt, very grievous. Before them, there were no such locusts as they, neither after them shall be such; for they covered the face of the whole earth so that the land was darkened, and they did eat ever herb of the land and all the fruit of the trees which the hail had left. And there remained not any green thing in the trees or in the herbs of the field through all the land of Egypt." OC Exo. 7:3.

“that no man might make his son or his daughter to pass through the fire to Molech.”⁵

“to cause their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire unto Molech, which I commanded them not;”⁶

What kind of a society allows killing 51,000,000 innocent children to continue uninterrupted over 47 years? As we have been told, “Nevertheless, when the wicked rule, the people mourn. Wherefore, honest men and wise men should be sought for diligently, and good men and wise men you should observe to uphold; otherwise, whatever is less than these comes of evil.”⁷

We have elected and upheld men and women who have tolerated this obscenity for 47 years. The United States will be punished for this. By and by you will see the “chastening hand of an Almighty God, until the consumption decreed has made a full end of all nations.”⁸ That full end of nations will include the US.⁹ And so we have an opportunity to prepare, if we will heed the Lord’s counsel.

Anciently, Enoch was shown a vision in which he “beheld Satan, and he had a great chain in his hand, and he veiled the whole face of the earth with darkness; and he looked up and laughed, and his angels rejoiced.”¹⁰ The “chain” and the “veil of darkness” over the earth at that time were lies and deceit that covered the earth. Men spoke lies continually to one another, and falsely accused one another. God told Enoch, “they are without affection and they hate their own blood.”¹¹

Many false spirits, false ideas, and lies are spread among us. There are too many for me to be able to respond to them all.¹² You have the scriptures, study them, pray continually, and walk uprightly. Never compromise your virtue, nor allow your thoughts to go unguarded. Understanding the scriptures will fortify anyone from today's lies. Political leaders, entertainers, news reports and even scholarly studies distort and mislead. We live in a time similar to Enoch's.

The Jews claimed they were Torah-observant and that would be enough to save them. They asserted: "Good Master, we have Moses and the prophets; and whoever shall live by them, shall he not have life?" But Christ responded: "You know not Moses, neither the prophets, for if you had known them, you would have believed on me; for, to this intent they were written."¹³

They accused Christ of violating the Torah by healing on the Sabbath.¹⁴ But Christ disputed their Torah teaching, saying if an ox fell into a pit it would be lawful to rescue the ox on the Sabbath, asking if a daughter of Abraham should not also be rescued on the Sabbath.¹⁵ Christ also compared healing a son of Abraham to make him whole to circumcising on the Sabbath. The Torah-observant Jews approved of Sabbath day circumcision.¹⁶

As a practical matter, is impossible to follow the Torah without a temple and sacrifice. But Christ fulfilled the law's required sacrifice, and therefore the Law of Moses ended.¹⁷ The Roman destruction of the temple made observance of that law impossible to continue.

Between the 11th and 13th Centuries the Crusades brought a stagnant, Christian Europe into contact with Islamic culture.¹⁸ Baghdad was a cultural and literary center where great philosophical works that had been lost to Christianity were studied. The works of Aristotle and Plato were preserved and transmitted to Christians from contact with the Muslim world. Europe gained learning in mathematics, astronomy, and chemistry from the Muslims.

¹⁸ Eight major Crusades took place between 1096 and 1291.

Musical instruments, including the violin and guitar are derived from Arabic instruments the rebec and the oud. Distillation, including alcohol, along with cultivation of cotton, rice, sugar cane, the silk industry, paper, the suction pump, and the spinning wheel came to Europe through contact with Islam in the Crusades.

The 14th Century Renaissance was the result of light and truth flowing into benighted Christian Europe from an enlightened Islamic civilization. Catholic Christianity had oppressed the continent and kept people in darkness. When that world was enlightened, civilization changed and with greater light and truth Catholicism's oppressive domination was challenged through the Protestant Reformation.

The theological, social and educational revolution underway during this time period produced several esoteric traditions. Ideas were imported into Persia from the Far East. Hindu, Zoroastrian, Buddhist and Taoist ideas refreshed Islamic thinkers and in turn filtered into Christian and Jewish European circles. Freemasonry and the Kabbalah both were developed as a result of events in this 11th to 14th Century period. Other esoteric traditions also were invented. They all claimed to have much more ancient origins than when they were actually developed:

-The Catholic Knights Templar Order was founded in 1096 and destroyed in 1307. Freemasonry claims some relationship to the Knights Templar and in turn to the Temple of Solomon. Those claims are not true.

-The Kabbalahists claim to have learning that can be traced back to Abraham. It is more correct to say they can trace their notions to the Far East than to Abraham. Their claims are untrue and are among the superstitions Isaiah prophesied against.¹⁹ Kabbalah began to be developed by the Jews in Spain, after contact with the Moors.

-None of the Kabbalahist claims about the antiquity of their belief's origin are true. It is another mingling of the doctrines of men with scripture. Despite this, some thought provoking and interesting things are taught by Kabbalists.

Today you will hear voices trying to use Kabbalahist ideas to claim the Law of Moses has always been, and is still, binding. They advocate the idea that there are levels of meaning to the law, and the highest meaning is where enlightenment and understanding of God is to be found. These are interesting ideas. But they are not ancient, they are Middle-Age notions derived from contact with Islam. And so we see irony again playing out in the Jewish-Islamic relationship in which Jews claiming superior enlightenment through the Kabbalah owe an unrecognized debt to Islam.

¹⁹ "You, LORD, have abandoned your people, the descendants of Jacob. They are full of superstitions from the East; they practice divination like the Philistines and embrace pagan customs." (NIV Isa. 2:6) "Therefore, O Lord, you have forsaken your people, the house of Jacob, because they are replenished from the east, and listen to fortune-tellers like the Philistines, and they please themselves in the children of strangers." (OC Isa. 1:6)

Christ interpreted the Law of Moses to require charity, even if doing so appears to violate commandments. Christ showed that God cares for those who are hurting, injured, or in need. Therefore, any commandment from God should be understood in light of that merciful objective. “Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this: to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the vices of the world.”²⁰

There are two challenges to this: Caring for those in need is one. But keeping ourselves unspotted is a second. As for the first:

Those who follow Christ have an obligation to care for one another. There are single mothers and children with substantial ongoing needs. They need help with food, clothing, housing and medical care. These are basic needs calling for our help.

Vulnerable people in humble circumstances should not be asked why they are in need. It does not matter. We have no right to judge them. Our obligation is to help them. The Good Samaritan helped the man in need without judgment. His response was based only on the need he saw: “when he saw him, he had compassion on him, and went to him and bound up his wounds.”²¹ This is the behavior our Lord encouraged. “Go and do likewise.”²²

Religion requires us to “succor those that stand in need of your succor. Ye will administer of your substance unto him that standeth in need, and ye will not suffer that the beggar putteth up his petition to you in vain, and turn him out to perish. Perhaps thou shalt say, The man has brought upon himself his misery; therefore I will stay my hand and will not give unto him of my food, nor impart unto him of my substance that he may not suffer, for his punishments are just. But I say unto you, O man, whosoever doeth this, the same hath great cause to repent; and except he repenteth of that which he hath done, he perisheth for ever and hath no interest in the kingdom of God. For behold, are we not all beggars?”²³

The light of Christ is withdrawing from the world, and darkness continues to spread. If you have the Spirit, you can see clearly this steady decline of light in the world. It is obvious. The increasing darkness will eventually result in the wicked slaying the wicked, as has happened in two previous civilizations on this land. The Book of Mormon describes how this happens, “the spirit of the Lord had ceased striving with them and Satan had full power over the hearts of the people, for they were given up unto the hardness of their hearts and the blindness of their minds, that they might be destroyed[.]”²⁴ God “will not suffer that the wicked shall destroy the righteous.”²⁵ He has declared, “The wicked shall destroy the wicked, and I will hold the peacemakers in the palm of my hand and none can take them from me.”²⁶

As for the second, no one is entitled to assume they have the right to be idle while imposing on laborers to provide for their needs. When seeking assistance from others always consider this principle: “You shall not be idle, for he that is idle shall not eat the bread, nor wear the garment of the laborer.”²⁷ No one should judge or dismiss your needs, but as the recipient of help from others you should always evaluate yourself by this standard.

In keeping unspotted from the world involves a true principle that adultery and sign seeking go hand-in-hand.²⁸ Among all mankind, John the Baptist was chosen to baptize the Son of God. Yet “John did no miracle.”²⁹ Signs do not produce faith, but follow faith. Even Christ could do no mighty works among those who lacked faith.³⁰ There are signs that do follow faith, and I have witnessed many of them. But I speak little of them because sign seeking attracts the wrong kind of follower. Even Christ would not accept loyalty from such people.³¹

²⁸ “And he that seeks signs shall see signs, but not unto salvation. Verily I say unto you, there are those among you who seek signs, and there have been such even from the beginning. But behold, faith comes not by signs, but signs follow those that believe. Yea, signs come by faith, not by the will of men nor as they please, but by the will of God. Yea, signs come by faith unto mighty works, for without faith no man pleases God. And with whom God is angry, he is not well pleased, wherefore, unto such he shows no signs, only in wrath unto their condemnation. Wherefore, I, the Lord, am not pleased with those among you who have sought after signs and wonders for faith, and not for the good of men unto my glory. Nevertheless, I gave commandments, and many have turned away from my commandments and have not kept them. There were among you adulterers and adulteresses, some of whom have turned away from you, and others remain with you that hereafter shall be revealed. Let such beware and repent speedily, lest judgment shall come upon them as a snare, and their folly shall be made manifest and their works shall follow them in the eyes of the people. And verily I say unto you, as I have said before, he that looks on a woman to lust after her, or if any shall commit adultery in their hearts, they shall not have the spirit but shall deny the faith and shall fear.

The idea that signs must be open for the world, and spoken of frequently, is a false idea. Sign-seekers are unable to have faith unless they repent. God is not fooled by pious pretensions. Righteousness is required for God to gather a community into Zion.

We have a law given to us:

“And now behold, I speak unto the church: you shall not kill, and he that kills shall not have forgiveness, neither in this world nor in the world to come. And again, you shall not kill; he that kills shall die. You shall not steal, and he that steals and will not repent shall be cast out. You shall not lie; he that lies and will not repent shall be cast out. You shall love your wife with all your heart, and shall cleave unto her and none else, and he that looks upon a woman to lust after her shall deny the faith, and shall not have the spirit, and if he repent not he shall be cast out. You shall not commit adultery, and he that commits adultery and repents not shall be cast out; and he that commits adultery and repents with all his heart, and forsakes and does it no more, you shall forgive him; but if he does it again, he shall not be forgiven, but shall be cast out. You shall not speak evil of your neighbor or do him any harm. You know my laws, they are given in my scriptures. He that sins and repents not shall be cast out. If you love me, you shall serve me and keep all my commandments.”³²

Wherefore, I, the Lord, have said that the fearful, and the unbelieving, and all liars, and whoever loves and makes a lie, and the whoremonger, and the sorcerer should have their part in that lake which burns with fire and brimstone, which is the second death. Verily I say that they shall not have part in the first resurrection. And now behold, I, the Lord, say unto you that you are not justified because these things are among you.” T&C 50:3-5.

³¹ “Now while he was in Jerusalem at the Passover many believed on his name when they saw the healing miracles he did. But Jesus did not attempt to have them pledge loyalty to him because he knew they were fickle, and miracles alone cannot produce faith, because sign-seekers are wicked and adulterous.” T&C 171: TSJ 1:20.

These are minimal standards required of us all. They are not constraints but the only way to have freedom and enjoy a peaceful community. Commandments are a gift. Obedience to commandments is the only thing that lets mankind live in harmony.

There are two opposing forces at work, and God's light still remains productive and positive. Because there is a necessary opposition, darkness and light are both growing.

There are very good things happening in the world. We are witnessing technological progress bordering on the miraculous. People around the world are rising from poverty at a faster pace than at any prior time in history. More patents are being issued at a quicker pace than at any time before. Agriculture is more productive, and medicine is finding more cures. Stem-cell therapies are in their infancy and show extraordinary promise. This could and should be a golden age for mankind.

At the same time we are witnessing extraordinary progress in producing material benefits, we are also seeing an increase in oppression, despair, drug dependency, violence and suicide.

The gulf between actual progress and social despair is illustrated by the political debate involving "global warming."

The United States has reduced its greenhouse gas output by 12% since 2005, the largest reduction of any nation in the world. The United States is leading the world in reducing greenhouse gases, accomplishing far more than any other nation. At the same time the United States has increased oil production by 80% and natural gas production by 51%, making it energy independent and an exporter of oil and natural gas, the world's larger producer of energy.

China is the world's worst polluter and produces nearly double the amount of greenhouse gases as the United States. As the US continues to decrease, China's greenhouse gas increase is growing at a rate of about 2% per year. Therefore, if you care about this issue you should advocate for moving all the commerce, manufacturing and production that can be moved from China to the United States in order to reduce greenhouse gases.

But for political reasons manufacturing and production in the United States is being condemned by emotional, loud, angry voices who are silent about pollution coming from China and India. Every company that moves its manufacturing to the United States is helping to reduce greenhouse gases.

Political dialogue is so angry, so emotional and irrational that everyone should take notice. Why has political dialogue become so angry? Why is there so much despair?

Christ spoke against disputing this way:

“There shall be no disputations among you. ... he that hath the spirit of contention is not of me, but is of the Devil, who is the father of contention; and he stirreth up the hearts of men to contend with anger, one with another. Behold, this is not my doctrine, to stir up the hearts of men with anger, one against another, but this is my doctrine, that such things should be done away.”³³

No matter how you measure progress, material progress is growing at an astonishing rate, more than in any prior generation. Despite this there is greater mental illness, depression, despair and drug abuse among the most prosperous societies today.

It is in the minds and hearts of men where darkness grows. A great fog of lies spreads over the earth again today.

There is decreasing light because of false, evil and destructive ideas. Life expectancy in the United States has declined for the first time, largely due to two causes: suicide and drug abuse. There is a crisis of depression, loneliness and mental illness underway. Pollution of our minds is a far greater threat than anything we see in the physical environment.

The Book of Mormon warns about our time. It describes the pollutions of both the environment and the spirits of mankind we now see:

“Yea, it shall come in a day when there shall be heard of fires, and tempests, and vapors of smoke in foreign lands; and there shall also be heard of wars, and rumors of wars, and earthquakes in divers places. Yea, it shall come in a day when there shall be great pollutions upon the face of the earth [NOTICE HOW THE POLLUTIONS ARE NEXT DEFINED] — there shall be murders, and robbing, and lying, and deceivings, and whoredoms,

and all manner of abominations — when there shall be many who will say, Do this or do that and it mattereth not, for the Lord will uphold such at the last day. But woe unto such, for they are in the gall of bitterness and in the bonds of iniquity. Yea, it shall come in a day when there shall be churches built up that shall say, Come unto me, and for your money you shall be forgiven of your sins.”³⁴

Today’s greatest pollutions are lies, deceits and advocating all manner of abominations, as if they were good. Abusive and wicked practices are now advocated boldly, and incorporated into our entertainment media and culture fearlessly. Their advocates have no shame, no fear of judgment, and no concern for godliness.

The needs of the poor are often forgotten, and their direful circumstances used by leaders only to advance their political power and control. The sick and infirm have become a political opportunity. Governments face increasing perplexities and fail to address them with common sense. The world’s leaders welcome perplexities to increase public distress, because they hope to ride that increasing public distress to increased power.

Christ described our socially bleak times, but told us not be discouraged because of it. He told us to look up, for the time of redemption is promised when a generation sees these signs:

“In the generation in which the times of the gentiles shall be fulfilled, there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars, and upon the earth, distress of nations with perplexity, like the sea and the waves roaring. The earth also shall be troubled, and the waters of the great deep, men’s hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth, for the powers of Heaven shall be shaken; and when these things begin to come to pass, then look up and lift up your heads, for the day of your redemption draws near.”³⁵

We have a side-show going on in this nation’s capital, and even worse foolishness in the governments of other nations. The people of some nations starve because their leaders believe military power matters more their citizen’s hunger. Taxes are squandered, speech is suppressed, citizens are killed, and leaders pursue foolishness and vanity rather than benevolence and kindness.

³⁴ NC Mormon 4:4.

³⁵ NC Luke 12:17.

Despite the present distresses, we are expected to uphold the government for the present. As our scriptures explain: “We believe in being subject to kings, presidents, rulers, and magistrates, in obeying, honoring, and sustaining the law.”³⁶

And in another place the Lord stated:

“I, the Lord, justify you and your brethren of my church in befriending that law which is the constitutional law of the land. And as pertaining to law of man, whatever is more or less than this comes of evil. I, the Lord your God, make you free; therefore, you are free indeed, and the law also makes you free. Nevertheless, when the wicked rule, the people mourn. Wherefore, honest men and wise men should be sought for diligently, and good men and wise men you should observe to uphold; otherwise, whatever is less than these comes of evil.”³⁷

Governments and churches are both subject to corruption. “We have learned by sad experience that it is the nature and disposition of almost all men, as soon as they get a little authority, as they suppose, they will immediately begin to exercise unrighteous dominion. Hence many are called, but few are chosen.”³⁸

The genius of the US Constitution is that it presumes ambitious and corrupt men will rise to power. It both limits, and then fragments, government authority. The Constitution sets restrictions on what the government is permitted to do. Then, as a further precaution, it divides power between three branches and makes a system of checks and balances so that ambitious and corrupt men who rise to offices will have only limited means to act.

Rhetoric stirs emotions that erupt like storm waves crashing against the cliffs. Isaiah described how mankind now behaves: “Woe to the multitude of many people, who make a noise like the noise of the seas, and to the rushing of nations, that make a rushing like the rushing of mighty waters. The nations shall rush like the rushing of many waters, but God shall rebuke them[.]”³⁹ This was the image Christ used: “upon the earth, distress of nations with perplexity, like the sea and the waves roaring.”⁴⁰

Much of the toxic pollution spreading despair and anger is through social media. Our computers and smart phones are filled with the fog of lies. People who are lonely and isolated post pictures with false captions to inspire envy and respect. Others believe these false images and become unhappy with their own circumstances.

Lies are now political capital for all parties. Democracies vote liars into office, and once elected, leaders keep their supporters committed by lying to them yet more. Dictators lie to their citizens to manipulate and control them. Churches and businesses are being swept into the polarizing political fights that demand you either accept their political viewpoint or suffer boycotts, condemnation and false accusations.

Loud but small minorities use social media to exert a wholly disproportionate influence over society and government. Churches foolishly fear offending in this partisan climate and surrender to the intolerant demands of destructive agents.

Churches do not preach repentance for fear of offending. A person is more likely to receive praise for denouncing the Bible than for denouncing sin. The Bible was once the primary text used in public education in the United States. It was once common sense to ‘do unto others as you would have them do unto you.’⁴¹

The fog of lies and the foolishness of society should not make you despair. Instead now is the time for us to hope for a better world. It should make us want to help establish a better society.

Guard your children. Let them know that the primary content of social media, news, and even in education are falsehoods. You are responsible to teach your children.⁴²

Fleeing Babylon will require us to part ways with her. Our departure will require Babylon to be paid. We will have to ‘render unto Caesar the things that are Caesars’⁴³ before Babylon will allow us to depart in peace.

Honoring, obeying and sustaining the law require that land used for a Zion community must be acquired through legal purchase. People cannot just take what they need. Property needs to be acquired in the way the law will respect and no one can challenge our right to occupy and use the land.

For Zion, land must be redeemed in the way the Lord has instructed:

“let all the churches gather together all their moneys. Let these things be done in their time, lo, not in haste, and observe to have all things prepared before you. And let honorable men be appointed, even wise men, and send them to purchase the lands. And every church in the eastern countries, when they are built up, if they will hearken unto this counsel they may buy lands and gather together upon them, and in this way they may establish Zion. There is even now already in store sufficient, yea, even abundance, to redeem Zion and establish her waste places, no more to be thrown down,”⁴⁴

That direction was given in 1833. The men of that generation failed. Today women are gathering the money for this purpose. I have more confidence in today’s women than yesterday’s men.

There is land given to us by covenant, but no one is any more justified in taking the land without purchase than was Abraham. He received a promised land by covenant from God, yet he had to purchase it from the owners before taking possession:

-The account of him purchasing a burial site for himself and Sarah is in OC Genesis Chapter 8:9-10, 20:

“And Sarah was a hundred twenty-seven years old, and she died. And thus ended the years of the life of Sarah. And Sarah died in Kiriath-Arba, the same is now called Hebron in the land of Canaan. And Abraham came to mourn for Sarah and to weep for her, his wife who was dead. And Abraham stood up from before his dead and spoke unto the sons of Heth, saying, I am a stranger and a sojourner with you. Give me a possession of a burying-place with you, that I may bury my dead out of my sight. And the children of Heth answered Abraham, saying unto him, Hear us, my lord, you are a mighty prince among us. In the choicest of our sepulchers bury your dead. None of us shall withhold from you his sepulcher, but that you may bury your dead. And Abraham stood up and bowed himself to the people of the land and to the children of Heth. And he spoke with them, saying, If it is your mind that I should bury my dead out of my sight, hear me, and entreat Ephron the son of Zohar for me, that he may give me the cave of Machpelah, which he has in the end of his field. For as much money as it is worth, he shall have, if he will give it to me for a possession of a burying-place among you.

“And Ephron dwelled among the children of Heth. And Ephron the Hittite answered Abraham in the audience of the children of Heth, among all of them that went in at the gates of his city, saying, Listen, my lord, and hear me. The field I give you, and the cave that is therein; I give it to you in the presence of the sons of my people. And I give it to you, therefore bury your dead. And Abraham bowed down himself before the people of the land. And he spoke unto Ephron in the audience of the people of the land, saying, I ask that you hear me. If you will take it of me, I will give you money for the field; and I will bury my dead there, but I will give you money for it. And Ephron answered Abraham, saying unto him, My lord, listen unto me. The land you shall have for four hundred shekels of silver; what shall that be between me and you? Bury therefore your dead. And Abraham listened unto Ephron. And Abraham weighed to Ephron the silver which he had named in the audience of the sons of Heth — four hundred shekels of silver — which was current with the merchant. And the field of Ephron — which was in Machpelah, which was before Mamre — the field, and the cave which was therein, and all the trees that were in the field and that were in all the borders round about, were made sure unto Abraham for a possession in the presence of the children of Heth, before all that went in at the gates of his city. And after this, Abraham buried Sarah his wife in the cave of the field of Machpelah, which is before Mamre; the same is called Hebron in the land of Canaan. And the field and the cave that were therein were made sure unto Abraham for a possession of a burying-place by the sons of Heth.

... “And these are the number of the years of Abraham’s life which he lived: a hundred seventy-five years. Then Abraham gave up the ghost and died in a good old age, an old man and full of years, and was gathered to his people. And his sons Isaac and Ishmael buried him in the cave of Machpelah, in the field of Ephron, the son of Zohar the Hittite, which is before Mamre. The field which Abraham purchased of the sons of Heth, there was Abraham buried, and Sarah his wife. And it came to pass after the death of Abraham that God blessed his son Isaac. And Isaac dwelled by the well Lahairoi.”

Like Abraham, we are commanded that we must purchase the land on which Zion will be built:

“Behold, the land of Zion; I, the Lord, hold it in my own hands. Nevertheless, I, the Lord, render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar’s. Wherefore, I, the Lord, will that you should purchase the lands, that you may have advantage of the world, that you may have claim on the world, that they may not be stirred up unto anger. For Satan puts it into their hearts to anger against you and to the shedding of blood. Wherefore, the land of Zion shall not be obtained but by purchase or by blood; otherwise, there is no inheritance for you. And if by purchase, behold, you are blessed, and if by blood, as you are forbidden to shed blood, lo, your enemies are upon you and you shall be scourged from city to city, and from synagogue to synagogue, and but few shall stand to receive an inheritance.”⁴⁵

Whenever there are a people who are God’s, the Lord instructs them to build a temple. One day soon there will be a command to do so. When the command comes, it will need to be accomplished in the orderly way required by society. Some have questioned why a temple should be considered when there are so many unmet needs. The answer is that the Lord expects it, the prophecies require it, and we cannot avoid building it if we are obedient.

There is so much more we need to know and do before we will see Zion. This creation was ordained through natural laws, known and understood by God. He will establish Zion through natural means. Barren places, depleted of micronutrients and microorganisms, will blossom as a rose⁴⁶ through the work of competent husbandmen.⁴⁷ In the beginning Adam and Eve were given the responsibility “to dress it and to keep it.”⁴⁸ To return the earth back to Eden, we will be required to likewise “dress it and to keep it.” It will be through natural means that we will realize the promise made by covenant with us: “I will raise you up and protect you, abide with you, and gather you in due time, and this shall be a land of promise to you as your inheritance from me.”⁴⁹

⁴⁶ OC Isa. 12:4.

⁴⁷ The term “husbandmen” include both men and women.

We are promised the earth will yield its increase, and you will flourish upon the mountains and upon the hills, but that will not be accomplished without us acting the part of the husbandman. There will be a great work required to renew the fertility of the earth. But we can, with God’s direction and blessing, accomplish that work, “that you may stand independent above all other creatures beneath the Celestial world, that you may come up unto the crown prepared for you.”⁵⁰

The “Doctrine of Christ” is simple. It has a negative and a positive declaration: First, the negative declaration: “this is not my doctrine, to stir up the hearts of men with anger, one against another, but this is my doctrine, that such things should be done away.”⁵¹

Second, the positive declaration: “And this is my doctrine, and it is the doctrine which the Father hath given unto me — and I bear record of the Father, and the Father beareth record of me, and the holy ghost beareth record of the Father and me — and I bear record that the Father commandeth all men everywhere to repent and believe in me. And whoso believeth in me, and is baptized, the same shall be saved, and they are they who shall inherit the kingdom of God. And whoso believeth not in me, and is not baptized, shall be damned.”⁵²

This doctrine will save anyone who follows it. But it is a mistake to assume that Christ’s gospel does not contain more. The fullness of the gospel of Christ is vast.

It includes this truth about God: “I, Nephi, am forbidden that I should write the remainder of the things which I saw. Wherefore, the things which I have written sufficeth me, and I have not written but a small part of the things which I saw.”⁵³ That which was not written by Nephi is part of Christ’s gospel. You have not yet received them, but that does not change it from being part of Christ’s gospel.

⁴⁸ OC Gen. 2:13.

Moroni wrote the prophecies of Ether, and recorded: “I was about to write more, but I am forbidden; but great and marvelous were the prophecies of Ether.”⁵⁴ Those prophecies of Ether are also part of Christ’s gospel and presently not restored.

The children of the Nephites were taught by Christ in a pillar of fire, and afterwards these children bore testimony to their fathers: “it came to pass on the morrow that the multitude gathered themselves together, and they both saw and heard these children; yea, even babes did open their mouths and utter marvelous things. And the things which they did utter were forbidden, that there should not any man write them.”⁵⁵ Those marvelous things are part of Christ’s gospel, but are forbidden from public knowledge. It will require a similarly sacred space to restore this part of Christ’s gospel.

As Christ ministered to the Nephites, He prayed to the Father. What He revealed to that audience was unspeakable, forbidden from our scriptures. “he went again a little way off and prayed unto the Father, and tongue cannot speak the words which he prayed, neither can be written by man the words which he prayed. And the multitude did hear, and do bear record, and their hearts were open, and they did understand in their hearts the words which he prayed. Nevertheless, so great and marvelous were the words which he prayed that they cannot be written, neither can they be uttered by man.”⁵⁶ Those words are also part of Christ’s gospel, and He has the right to teach them. But they are not part of the public revelation available to man.

When Moses asked for greater understanding of all God’s works, he was told: “And the Lord God spoke unto Moses of the heavens, saying, These are many and they cannot be numbered unto man, but they are numbered unto me for they are mine. And as one earth shall pass away, and the heavens thereof, even so shall another come. And there is no end to my works, neither my words.”⁵⁷ The endless works and endless words of the Lord God are also part of Christ’s gospel. It is foolish to assume even a small fraction have been recorded.

John testified concerning his own record of Christ: “In addition to this account, many other things were done by Jesus, which, if they were all written, that library would fill the entire cosmos.”⁵⁸ All of the things done by Christ have not been written. Yet they are still part of Christ’s gospel.

Christ’s statement of His Doctrine is short, simple and complete. But Christ’s gospel has vastly more.

As I have said previously:

You should hunger and search for understanding. This is all of Christ’s doctrine. There is no more doctrine. BUT, this is not all of Christ’s teachings, nor all His tenets, these are not all of Christ’s precepts, or His covenants. This is not all of Christ’s commandments, and this is not all of His principles; but it is all of His doctrine.

Christ posed this question to us all through the Book of Mormon: “Wherefore murmur ye because that ye shall receive more of my word?”⁵⁹

He explained, “because that I have spoken one word, ye need not suppose that I cannot speak another, for my work is not yet finished, neither shall it be until the end of man, neither from that time henceforth and for ever.”⁶⁰

Many great and glorious things pertaining to the Kingdom of God are reserved for God’s House.

In the Glossary of Gospel Terms, the Mysteries of God are explained in this manner:

That knowledge which is hidden from the world and only made available through revelation to the faithful. Much of such knowledge may be learned but is not to be taught. One will have to apply the process of learning the mysteries in one’s life if he or she intends to learn the mysteries themselves. The scriptures tell us how to get the “mysteries of God.” Learning these mysteries is the fullness of Christ’s Gospel. There is a system by which men learn the mysteries of heaven and are saved. That system is set out in Alma 9:7: first, angels are sent to prepare men and women; second, they are allowed to behold the Lord’s glory; then they converse with the Lord, at which point they are taught the things that have been prepared from the foundation of the earth for their salvation. All of this is driven by the man or woman's faith, repentance, and holy works. Joseph Smith said, I advise all to go on to perfection and search deeper and deeper into the mysteries of godliness.... [As for myself] it has always been my province to dig up hidden mysteries, new things, for my hearers. This is the Book of Mormon theme. Search deeper, and find God. Ask that you may know the mysteries of God. That is a commandment. Although given to Oliver Cowdery, it is a principle that is applicable to all of mankind (see T&C 3:3). The claim that one should stay away from the mysteries of God is false. Refusing to follow the command to ask that you may know the mysteries of God (JSH 13:26) denies the power of godliness and opposes the doctrine of salvation. It is anti-Christ. "We make our own mysteries; we are not meant to be kept in darkness, and the mysteries of heaven will be unfolded to us as we make an effort to understand them." Christ said that the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven are understood only by those who have been initiated and given that understanding (see Matthew 7:2). Mysteries can also be defined as solemn ceremonial ordinances or rituals which take place in a special setting. "Mysteries (from the Greek, mystērion, μυστήριον)...[are] confided only to the initiated and not to be communicated by them to ordinary mortals."⁶¹

This is the real reason God requires us to build a temple. A temple ordained by God, built by His command and according to His pattern, will be a repository for teachings, precepts, commandments, tenets, and covenants that are not public but are all part of Christ's gospel.

Like true temples built in the past, there will be places for general assembly, where everyone will be invited to come and worship. There will be other places for fewer people to assemble, where not everyone will be extended an open invitation to come. There will also be some places forbidden to the public, where God alone determines who will enter.

There will be no "temple recommend" to enter the inner-most courts of God's House. No one will be required to pay to enter. The only requirement will be God's approval, through revelation, to identify those He will invite. I assume that as soon as any soul is prepared to receive what God freely offers, God will extend His invitation.

The House of God is a place of learning. It is “a house of prayer, a house of fasting, a house of faith, a house of learning, a house of glory, a house of order, a House of God.”⁶² God will determine how His House will be ordered.

But the Doctrine of Christ is the foundation, and without it, understanding the mysteries of God is nothing. Paul says: “And though I have the gift of prophecy and understand all mysteries and all knowledge, and though I have all faith so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing.”⁶³

The Doctrine of Christ commands that whoso believeth in Christ, and is baptized, the same shall be saved, and they are they who shall inherit the kingdom of God. And whoso believeth not in Christ, and is not baptized, shall be damned. If followed, the Doctrine of Christ leads to that illumination of mind and spirit called “fire and the holy ghost.” It can purge and cleanse, enlighten and instruct. It can make you “one” with God the Father and Christ, His Son.

“I say unto you that this is my doctrine, and I bear record of it from the Father. And whoso believeth in me believeth in the Father also, and unto him will the Father bear record of me, for he will visit him with fire and with the holy ghost. And thus will the Father bear record of me, and the holy ghost will bear record unto him of the Father and me, for the Father and I and the holy ghost are one. And again I say unto you, ye must repent, and become as a little child, and be baptized in my name, or ye can in nowise receive these things.”⁶⁴

We must obey the Doctrine of Christ to qualify to build His house. Scripture confirms that not every one who would want to build a House of God is allowed by God to do so.

King David gathered everything required to build the Temple for God, but was forbidden from accomplishing it because he had been too violent a man to be permitted:

⁶² T&C 123:3.

⁶³ NC 1 Cor. 1:51.

⁶⁴ NC 3 Ne. 5:8.

“David said to Solomon, My son, as for me, it was in my mind to build a house unto the name of the Lord my God; but the word of the Lord came to me, saying, You have shed blood abundantly, and have made great wars. You shall not build a house unto my name because you have shed much blood upon the earth in my sight.”⁶⁵

To qualify to build an acceptable House to God requires that His instructions and commands be followed. Therefore, any land for that purpose must be acquired by a lawful purchase.

I know of no way to flee Babylon other than to pay her what she values. She values money above all else. Babylon believes you can buy anything in this world with money. It is by giving to Babylon what she values that we prove our heart is not set upon her values. Hearts set upon Babylon mourn parting with her money. We should willingly give to her her due, and redeem land to build Zion.

There is a lot of opposition to even the preparatory work. There are many false spirits distracting and hindering the efforts. Accusers and opponents rail against this effort. They are like the ancient dissidents who complained:

“And the whole congregation of the children of Israel murmured against Moses and Aaron in the wilderness. And the children of Israel said unto them, Would to God we had died by the hand of the Lord in the land of Egypt, when we sat by the flesh pots and when we did eat bread to the full; for you have brought us forth into this wilderness to kill this whole assembly with hunger.”⁶⁶

If the invitation to build a House of God by a kindly Lord is not attractive, then do not contribute. Do not give this work a second thought. But when the time comes, do not gather together with those who are delighted to answer the invitation to prepare the way for the Lord’s return in glory.

In the wisdom of the Lord, unfair and harsh condemnation of this work is permitted to expose for our view those who will always be disruptive to a community. They need to be identified so they are not gathered. Accusations, condemnation and lies are welcome. They not only tell us who acts the part of ⁶⁵ OC 1 Chr. 10:15.

⁶⁶ OC Exo. 10:2.

Satan,⁶⁷ but also capture those who are easily taken by the adversary. Accomplishing what the Lord invites people to do is hard enough with the humble and meek. It becomes impossible when the hard-hearted are whispering accusations and insults as wormtongue hindering the work.

Those who oppose the effort often do so while quoting scripture, as if they occupy a higher ground. If they do occupy higher ground, with better understanding, then they ought to leave, establish their model of a city on a hill, so we can all learn from their example. They do not undertake such an effort because they know they only quote scripture to condemn, judge and dismiss, never to govern their own accomplishments. They are darkened in their minds and in their hearts, and therefore like everyone's common enemy, they use scripture as a weapon to cut, criticize and condemn.⁶⁸ They are Satan, an accuser of the brethren. As we have been warned, that spirit should be cast away from our conversations, our meetings, our gatherings.

There is an example in the Old Covenants of a lying spirit permitted to influence Israel as testified of by Micaiah:

“he said, Hear therefore the word of the Lord. I saw the Lord sitting on his throne, and all the hosts of heaven standing by him on his right hand and on his left. And the Lord said, Who shall persuade Ahab, that he may go up, and fall, at Ramoth-Gilead? And one said on this manner, and another said on that manner. And there came forth a spirit and stood before the Lord, and said, I will persuade him. And the Lord said unto him, With what? And he said, I will go forth, and I will be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And he said, You shall persuade him, and prevail also; go forth and do so. Now therefore behold, the Lord has put a lying spirit in the mouth of all these your prophets, and the Lord has spoken evil concerning you.”⁶⁹

The King rejected Micaiah's prophecy, followed the lies told him by the deceived prophets, and was slain in battle.⁷⁰

Lying spirits are not confined to events and times of the Old and New Covenants. They are active any time the work of God is underway.

We are promised that eventually we will have revealed the contents of a Sealed Book:

“the book shall be sealed, and in the book shall be a revelation from God, from the beginning of the world to the ending thereof. Wherefore, because of the things which are sealed up, the things which are sealed shall not be delivered in the day of the wickedness and abominations of the people; wherefore, the book shall be kept from them. But the book shall be delivered unto a man, and he shall deliver the words of the book, which are the words of those who have slumbered in the dust, and he shall deliver these words unto another. But the words which are sealed he shall not deliver, neither shall he deliver the book, for the book shall be sealed by the power of God, and the revelation which was sealed shall be kept in the book until the own due time of the Lord, that they may come forth; for behold, they reveal all things from the foundation of the world unto the end thereof.”⁷¹

This promise has been used repeatedly to impose lies on believers. False spirits led Christopher Nemelka to claim he had the sealed plates, then later another deceived party produced the Mentinah Archives, and now Mauricio Berger has claimed that he can provide the promised text.

Here is what the sealed record will reveal:

“And it came to pass that the Lord said unto the brother of Jared, Behold, thou shalt not suffer these things which ye have seen and heard to go forth unto the world until the time cometh that I shall glorify my name in the flesh. Wherefore, ye shall treasure up the things which ye have seen and heard, and shew it to no man. And behold, when ye shall come unto me, ye shall write them and shall seal them up that no one can interpret them, for ye shall write them in a language that they cannot be read. And behold, these two stones will I give unto thee, and ye shall seal them up also with the things which ye shall write. For behold, the language which ye shall write I have confounded. Wherefore, I will cause, in mine own due time, that these stones shall magnify to the eyes of men these things which ye shall write. And when the Lord had said these words, he shewed unto the brother of Jared all the inhabitants of the earth which had been, and also all that would be. And the Lord withheld them not from his sight, even unto the ends of the earth. For the Lord had said unto him in times before that if he would believe in him, that he could shew unto him all things, it should be shewn unto him. Therefore, the Lord could not withhold anything from him, for he knew that the Lord could shew him all things.”⁷²

⁷¹ 2 Ne. 11:19.

Here is when they will be revealed:

“I am commanded that I should hide them up again in the earth. Behold, I have written upon these plates the very things which the brother of Jared saw. And there never was greater things made manifest than that which was made manifest unto the brother of Jared. Wherefore, the Lord hath commanded me to write them, and I have written them. And he commanded me that I should seal them up. And he also hath commanded that I should seal up the interpretation thereof; wherefore, I have sealed up the interpreters according to the commandment of the Lord. For the Lord said unto me, They shall not go forth unto the gentiles until the day that they shall repent of their iniquity and become clean before the Lord. And in that day that they shall exercise faith in me, saith the Lord, even as the brother of Jared did, that they may become sanctified in me, then will I manifest unto them the things which the brother of Jared saw, even to the unfolding unto them all my revelations, saith Jesus Christ, the Son of God the Father of the heavens, and of the earth, and all things that in them are.”⁷³

Ask yourself:

Do the gentiles now qualify?

Have they met this standard?

Have the gentiles repented of their iniquity and become clean before the Lord?

Do the gentiles now exercise faith in the Lord even as the brother of Jared did?

Have the gentiles now become sanctified in Christ?

Or do the foolish gentiles still fall victim to lying spirits that interfere with and compromise the work of preparing to establish Zion?

Economic realities and legal obligations must be dealt with. The path to Zion does not go through consecration. Consecration comes after there is a Zion. Even Father Abraham did not live the law of consecration. He was sanctified and qualified to receive all the blessings of the fathers and now sits on a throne,⁷⁴ but he paid tithes to Melchizedek.⁷⁵

⁷² Ether 1:15.

⁷³ Id., ¶17.

When Joseph Smith restored Enoch's record now found in Genesis, Joseph learned about the last day's Zion. It is revealed: "And the Lord called his people Zion because they were of one heart, and of one mind, and dwelled in righteousness, and there were no poor among them."⁷⁶

I do not believe this was their goal, but it was the byproduct. Such a society cannot be organized, but can be gathered. Individuals rarely are able to persuade one another through arguing to expose the other man's error.

Even among people who keep their eyes on the Lord and pay no heed to their neighbor's failure still must grow to become:

- People who refuse to judge and belittle others.
- Those who are humbled by the opportunity to build a House for God.
- Those who refuse to become an accuser.

Even among humble people the Lord can use to restore His House, there will be many things on which to disagree.

Therefore, we should ask ourselves:

What if I don't need to be always right?

What if you don't need to be wrong?

What if we don't need to debate?

Can people with different backgrounds be of one heart?

Can we have different ideas, value one another, and be of one mind?

Is it possible to disagree with one another about meanings of scriptures, and still dwell in righteousness?

Can we explore, consider and respectfully discuss incomplete or inaccurate ideas?

What if "no poor among us" includes sharing the wealth of diverse and interesting ideas?

This path of sober, thoughtful, open welcoming of differences is the only way the first steps can be taken.

⁷⁴ T&C 157:42.

⁷⁵ See OC Gen. 7:15, Heb. 1:17-18, Alma 10:1.

⁷⁶ OC Gen. 4:14.

We cannot jump into Zion. We must crawl there on bended knee, asking the Lord to bring us there. He has given us a blueprint in the Answer and Covenant. His word to us is:

“You think Satan will be bound a thousand years, and it will be so, but do not understand your own duty to bind that spirit within you so that you give no heed to accuse others. It is not enough to say you love God; you must also love your fellow man. Nor is it enough to say you love your fellow man while you, as Satan, divide, contend, and dispute against any person who labors on an errand seeking to do my will. How you proceed must be as noble as the cause you seek. You have become your own adversaries, and you cannot be Satan and also be mine. Repent, therefore, like Peter and end your unkind and untrue accusations against one another, and make peace. How shall there ever come a thousand years of peace if the people who are mine do not love one another?⁷⁷

“I speak of you who have hindered my work, that claim to see plainly the beams in others’ eyes. You have claimed to see plainly the error of those who abuse my words, and neglect the poor, and who have cast you out — to discern their errors, and you say you seek a better way. Yet among you are those who continue to scheme, backbite, contend, accuse, and forsake my words to do them, even while you seek to recover them. Can you not see that your works fall short of the beliefs you profess?⁷⁸

“Be of one heart, and regard one another with charity. Measure your words before giving voice to them, and consider the hearts of others. Although a man may err in understanding concerning many things, yet he can view his brother with charity and come unto me, and through me he can with patience overcome the world. I can bring him to understanding and knowledge. Therefore, if you regard one another with charity, then your brother’s error in understanding will not divide you.”⁷⁹

Joseph Smith inquired about consecration and received an answer. But the answer did not produce a community dwelling in righteousness, of one heart and one mind, with no poor among them. They failed, and all subsequent attempts have likewise failed to produce Zion.

⁷⁸ Id., ¶18.

⁷⁹ Id., ¶53.

The early attempts at consecration ended, and the Lord rescinded the law of consecration. In a council meeting on March 6, 1840 in Montrose, Iowa Territory, Joseph Smith announced to the church the Lord rescinded the law of consecration:

“He said that the Law of consecration could not be kept here, & that it was the will of the Lord that we should desist from trying to keep it, & if persisted in it would produce a perfect abortion, & that he assumed the whole responsibility of not keeping it untill proposed by himself.”⁸⁰

It had to end because consecration is never the starting point. Consecration is the result of society’s evolution and no society is prepared at present to evolve quickly into that state of harmony.

It is inevitable when people live in righteousness. But, even then, it is distant and will follow time, experience, careful and solemn thoughts, and love unfeigned.⁸¹

The Lord has explained this principle: “Nevertheless, in your temporal things you shall be equal in all things, and this not grudgingly; otherwise, the abundance of the manifestations of the spirit shall be withheld.”⁸² This important principle is to be followed by those who gather. Between now and that day there is a lot of preparation needed.

Like Abraham paying tithes, we can also rise up to be God’s chosen people before living consecration. Consecration is always a by-product, never a goal.

The fact that Abraham paid tithes and did not live consecration should make clear that there is a long way to go before consecration will be attempted. Having all things in common should be understood as the byproduct of a different culture. We cannot live it and should not attempt it until we are in a different culture. Those who raise up to restore the Order of Heaven will find they have enough concern for their fellow-citizen to have no poor among them.

⁸⁰ JS Papers, Documents Vol. 7, p. 215, emphasis added, all spelling as in original.

⁸¹ See T&C 138:18-19, 139:6.

⁸² T&C 61:4.

Because tithing funds are used to help one another, no one gains power through tithes. The well off lose power and the poor benefit. As it is put in one revelation, “the poor shall be exalted, in that the rich are made low, for the earth is full and there is enough and to spare.”⁸³

When tithes support ministers, wealth accumulates and the condition foretold by Mormon happens: “leaders of churches and teachers, in the pride of their hearts, even to the envying of them who belong to their churches.”⁸⁴ This is happening in all of Christian and Restoration churches, faiths and systems. Because we have no structure that allows this to happen, it cannot take place among us.

Which brings me to the conflict between “order” and “variety.”

The idea of “Order” suggests ideas, and some words come to mind when we think of order, including:

Uniformity,
disciplined,
standardization,
coercion,
authority,
subordination,
force,
regimentation,
restraint,
and equality.

All these ideas can be negative, particularly when they suppress the souls of men and inhibit independent connection to God, even if some can be positive. Yet we do need order, and without it we descend into conflict. The idea of order is important. But it must come from within the hearts and minds of an ordered people. Externally imposed order will crush the souls of men. The “Holy Order” to be restored is “after the Order of the Son of God”—meaning that it will be based upon service to others, meekness and humility toward God, and intelligence based on the light of truth.

Many corrupt societies impose order. But those societies who use external means to achieve order are the most repressive and abusive on earth.

⁸³ T&C 105:5.

⁸⁴ Mormon 4:4.

Freedom and individuality produces great variety. Variety suggests ideas, and some words come to mind when we think of “variety” including:

Creativity, variation,
divergence,
inventiveness,
originality,
separate,
inequality,
dissimilar,
and conflict.

Again, many of these ideas can also be negative.

In many ways, “variety” can conflict with “order.” But the souls of men crave variety and nature testifies that variety is part of the glory of God. God promotes variety. Zion will have to allow the freedom for individuals to bring their unique gifts and develop the beauty within their souls.

The necessity for order, and the freedom to have variety can produce endless conflict. But both are required for Zion.

There is a great work that at this moment is still undone; a project that remains for a faithful people. It will require revelation from heaven to be able to accomplish and therefore it will require people willing to receive new revelation.

Although we may understand some few things about the Lord’s plans, what we know at present is relatively small in comparison with the fullness of the revelations yet to be restored.

Incomplete understanding has never prevented mankind from obeying God. From the beginning, righteous men and women have pleased God by doing what He asked of them, even though they did not yet comprehend the reasons behind the commandment:

“And after many days, an angel of the Lord appeared unto Adam, saying, Why do you offer sacrifices unto the Lord? And Adam said unto him, I know not but the Lord commanded me. And then the angel spoke, saying, This thing is a similitude of the sacrifice of the Only Begotten of the Father who is full of grace and truth. Wherefore, you shall do all that you do in the name of the Son. And you shall repent and call upon God in the name of the Son for ever more. And in that day the holy ghost fell upon Adam, which bears record of the Father and the Son...⁸⁵

Even those taught by Christ could not understand His message. The accounts of Christ's life in the four gospel books mention frequently that His followers did not understand what He told them. Here is one example:

“Then he took the twelve and said unto them, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all things which are written by the prophets concerning the Son of Man shall be accomplished, for he shall be delivered unto the gentiles, and shall be mocked, and spitefully treated, and spit on; and they shall scourge and put him to death, and the third day he shall rise again. And they understood none of these things, and this saying was hidden from them, neither remembered they the things which were spoken.”⁸⁶

Adam was the first Patriarch over humanity, and stands at the head of his posterity, governing in the Family of God beneath only Christ and God the Father. Yet when he lived and obeyed God, there were commandments he was given that he did not understand. He was puzzled, but he obeyed.

Christ called twelve disciples, and kept them as His closest pupils during His ministry. Yet despite walking continually with Him, there were things He taught them they could not understand. Righteous men and women have followed and pleased God despite their ignorance.

What is more important: To be a person of great understanding or a person of diligent obedience?

Building Zion is daunting:

Take a moment and ask yourself what it would take to build a functioning community. Any community for any people will require a lot of the exact same things to be addressed. For example: housing, streets, water supply, waste disposal, and some form of energy supply. No matter how rudimentary an infrastructure a community may have, there must always be one.

Without a clean water supply people get sick or die. But a water source for a community does not mean they have clean, potable water that can be consumed. Clean water requires filtering, or processing to remove contaminants and unwanted organisms.

⁸⁵ OC Gen. 3:3-4.

⁸⁶ NC Luke 11:1.

If one person drills a well and recovers clean ground water for his residence, that does not mean there is a water supply for a community. If every residence requires their own well then costs for water multiply far beyond the cost for a community water supply that shares costs among many residents. Communities almost always pool resources to develop a city water system.

Waste-water needs to be handled in a sanitary way to prevent outbreaks of diphtheria, cholera and typhoid. One solution for sanitary waste-water is for an individual residence to have a septic tank. In a community that lacks a sewer system, septic tanks are required for every building that has a bathroom. But that increases costs for each house or building above the cost required for a shared sanitary waste water system. This is why communities almost always pool resources to develop a city-wide waste water system.

Roads are also generally maintained by a community in which shared resources allow the costs of a road system to be borne by all members of the community. A community's energy needs are not always met by gas or electric power. There was a time when many houses were heated by coal or wood. Although rare now, these sources can still heat homes and provide heat to cook.

A community that is not planned and carefully developed can quickly become unlivable, unhealthy, and unsustainable. Planning and then implementing the plan should not involve haste and hurry.

It seems to be common sense that if a community is to include people with widely varying resources and abilities, the first steps should be taken by those with both the resources and ability to accomplish the first preparation to benefit others who will come later.

If that is common sense, then it is not “discrimination” or “unfair” for those with the means and inclination to sacrifice their resources to be the first who labor to make land ready for others who will be invited later. Staging in an orderly way is the only method any community is or can be built. It is the only practical way to carefully build what must be built.

“And now behold, this is the will of the Lord your God concerning his saints — that they should assemble themselves together unto the land of Zion, not in haste, lest there should be confusion, which brings pestilence.”⁸⁷ If land is not prepared beforehand, confusion and pestilence go hand-in-hand. Cholera, diphtheria and typhoid all can and have returned today in this nation.

Forbes Magazine reported: “Los Angeles has a growing problem with diseases borne by both flea and feces. An LAPD officer was just diagnosed with typhoid fever along with two more from the same workplace displaying symptoms. Meanwhile, cases of typhus, caused by a different bacterium, have soared in California from 13 in 2008 to 167 in 2018. In addition, there have been outbreaks of hepatitis A, tuberculosis, and staph in L.A. and other West Coast cities.”⁸⁸

We need to be wiser than the society in which we presently live. WE can build a new society that will eventually have people who are at peace with one another, living in righteousness, and having all things in common, but that is still years ahead.

As mentioned earlier, the Lord has taught this principle: “Nevertheless, in your temporal things you shall be equal in all things, and this not grudgingly; otherwise, the abundance of the manifestations of the spirit shall be withheld.”⁸⁹ This begins with preparing a place for gathering. And there will be required:

- A water supply
- waste water system
- roads
- some form of energy
- a temple for meetings, instruction and conferences

These are the necessary things to come first, and will make water commonly and equally available, hygiene commonly and equally available, movement through open roads and trails commonly and equally available, and access to heat and light commonly and equally available.

We take much of these for granted. But these things currently tie us to Babylon. There are great calamities soon to befall the world. God’s people are to escape “the tribulation which shall descend upon you, that you may stand independent above all other creatures beneath the Celestial world”⁹⁰ by the work they accomplish beforehand. God will instruct. But we must do the work.

There will be many skills needed. Blacksmiths, carpenters, farmers, ranchers, electricians, plumbers, roofers, and every practical skill will be needed. Many skills are lost to urban dwellers. We need to recover those lost skills.

The route to equality is forged through united effort to accomplish the instructions we are given. Unity will lead to equality.

Anyone uninterested in helping prepare a community of equals will naturally and inevitably not have prepared a place for them to gather. As Amulek put it, “Ye cannot say when ye are brought to that awful crisis that I will repent, that I will return to my God”⁹¹ because it will then be too late. And so we have work to do, and it will need to be done in an orderly way.

I know of no people who are trying to bring Zion today. There have been and are utopians who ban together to share resources. Utopian societies are usually missing a religious foundation. Their groups more often than not result in aberrant sexual sin, drug use, and disobedient conduct offensive to God. However hopeful a beginning these communes may have, wickedness cannot be peaceful for long.

We are asked to prepare so we can begin to found Zion. But preparing or even beginning is not the same thing as accomplishing. Whether anything can or will be accomplished must be proven. It cannot just be claimed. Braggarts do not impress heaven and have no claim to any title or status they have not first lived.

The Lord is offering an opportunity. He has promised to labor alongside to help reach the prophesied Zion. With His help, Zion is possible. But we can fail—and Zion be left for another people in another time.

The greatest false spirit of all is the one that inspires you to accuse your brethren, condemn your sisters, and judge others unfairly. This is Satan. We cannot be Satan and also be the Lord’s.

I believe we will see Zion established. Sadly, I do not think all can be gathered. Those who find fault now will surely find fault when people start to sacrifice, and hard work is expected. It makes little sense to assemble the discontent, angry and bitter souls into a community seeking to find peace. Zion “shall be the only people that shall not be at war one with another.”⁹² That promise of the Lord’s cannot be fulfilled by people fighting a: “war of words and tumult of opinions.”⁹³ It was such fighting about religious differences that inspired Joseph Smith to ask God for answers. His inquiry led to the Restoration. But Joseph’s Restoration has now lapsed into infighting and dividing into separate sects. Our modest return to restoring is not yet free from a tumult of conflicting opinions.

Preparing people to welcome God remains the Restoration’s great objective. That will require all of us to humble ourselves before God and eagerly respond to the opportunity He offers us. Prayerfully choose a needed skill and learn it. Spinning thread, weaving fabric, producing paper, making cheese, drying fruits and vegetables, bee keeping, and egg production are all useful for an isolated community. Particularly if the larger, more complex society falls into disarray and is unable to provide goods and services.

We have a daunting challenge before us. It will require minds, hearts, hands and backs to accomplish it. Preparation needs to begin now. It will be followed by an orderly gathering, not in haste, but with guidance from above.

I close these remarks in the name of Jesus Christ.
